Foreword

As the sunset paints the beautiful memories of a day across the horizon, may this Cascadian imprint upon our minds, the memory of all precious past moments of our high school days. We must gather them together and embody them in this book, so that we may remember the strength of ideals, and the invigorating inspiration that comes from working together day by day toward a common goal. As the gentle murmur of spring rains sings the promise of sweet summer to come, may these pages suggest the hope, the joy, and the spirit of adventure with which we face the wilderness of years ahead.

We Dedicate . . .

We dedicate the 1960 edition of the Cascadian to Mr. Gerald W. Campbell, a very deserving and respected person. "As the twig is bent, so groweth the tree." With this in mind, Mr. Campbell has been not only a teacher and advisor, but also a friend to his pupils.

With his skill and knowledge he has helped us create a book of enduring value.

Annual adviser was only one of his many tasks. He also gave much of his time as advisor for the school paper, The Hornet. He has spent many untiring hours helping the Paps boys acquire the techniques and skills necessary to keep EHS audio-visual program running smoothly. Under his supervision, the Stage Crews have learned to work with speed and proficiency.

He is a very diligent worker and does an efficient, commendable job. In deep appreciation we dedicate to Mr. Gerald W. Campbell the 1960 Cascadian.

Our Administrators

Guide E. H. S.

This is the seventy-first year in the history of our school. Starting in a small way in 1889 the school has gradually expanded in equipment, students, faculty and the quality of its work. Set before the appraising eyes of our school administrators, during all these years, have been the multitudes of eager youth — searching, longing, hoping.

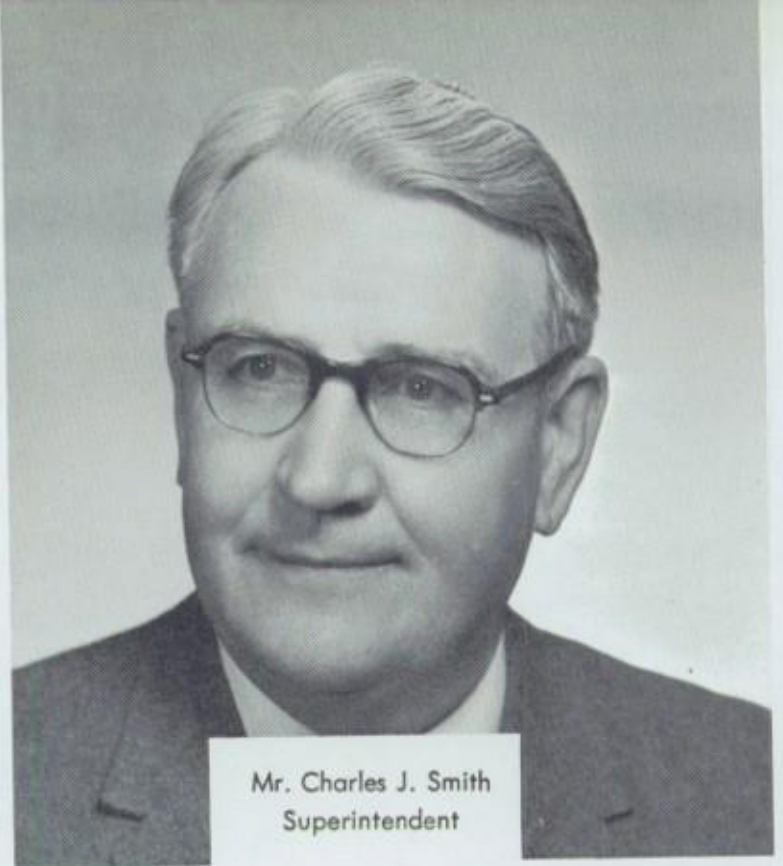

Having the responsibility this year for evaluating and providing for the needs of these students are Mr. Charles Smith, superintendent and Mr. Fred Gramann, principal. To them goes much of the credit for the pleasant associations, both academic and extra-curricular, which Enumclaw students have during their school life. Upon them depend many of the adjustments which students must make to their school environment. Difficulties arising from modernizing the curriculum and setting school policies are solved by both Mr. Smith and Mr. Gramann.

Theirs is the satisfaction of seeing students grow in intellectual attainments, social responsibility and technical knowledge. For their part in making this growth possible we, the students, are deeply appreciative.

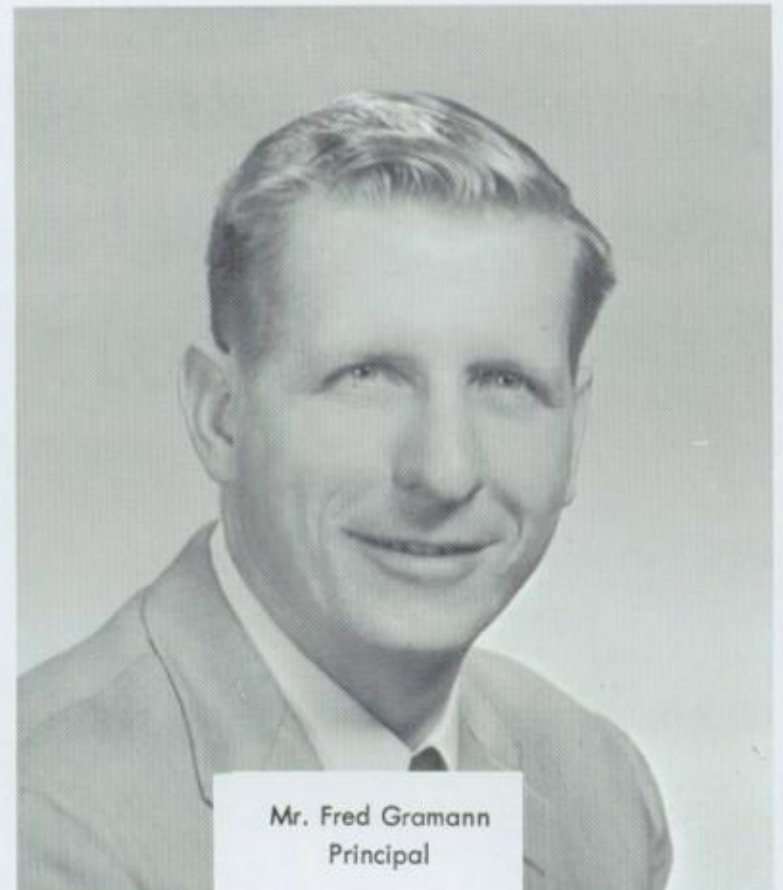

Although the most publicized goal of the Board of Directors is management of the school district, its ultimate goal is to help the students of Enumclaw through providing the best educational facilities they can for Enumclaw students.

The school board determines policies for all schools of the Enumclaw system. They are the final authority on all school problems, and are directly responsible to the public for the conduct of school affairs. Among the extra problems, the school board had to meet this year were proposing plans for our new high school, making decisions on levy and bond issues to raise the money, and awarding contracts for construction.

The students of EHS owe a great deal to these men who have done so much to aid us in our search for knowledge, and who have helped us immeasurably to attain our personal goals.

Through the Year

Let's follow Joy and Linda through the year of Fads and Fun. As they walk down the hall they spot many fellow students talking and laughing about many things.

They first encounter L. Ogle, D. Swanson, J. Rengstorff, J. Wells, T. Tinker, C. Hergert, D. Porter, and D. St. Clair competing with the Pep Club. They are doing the "Can Can" to advertise for the game at Mt. Rainier that night.

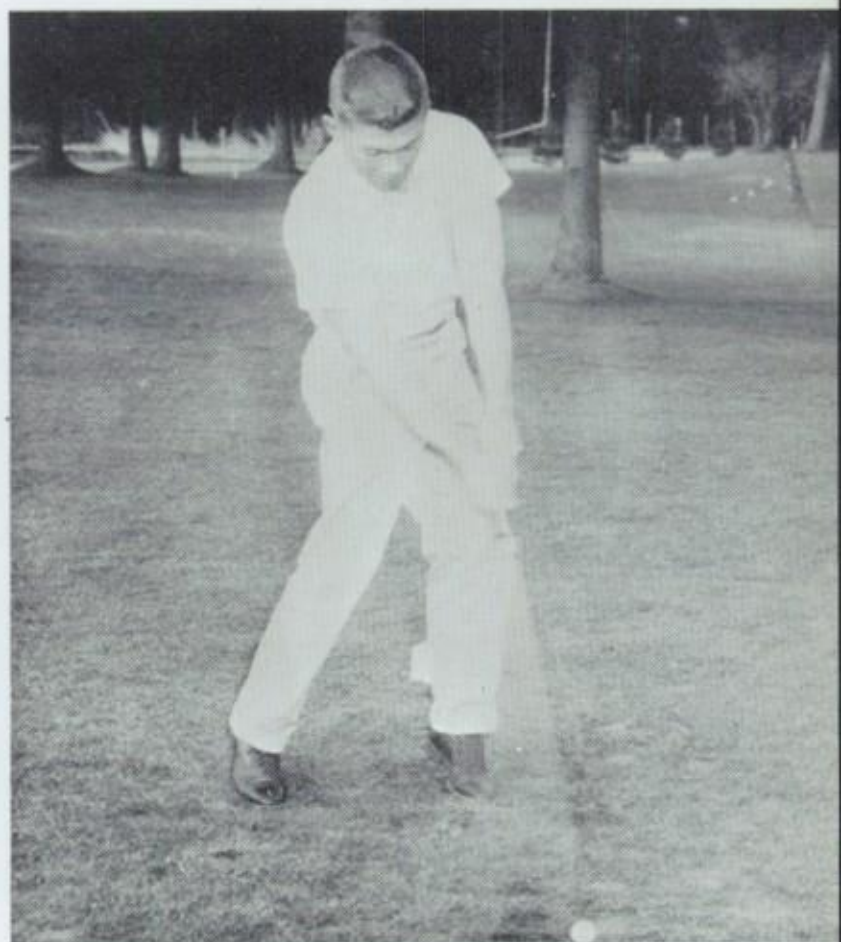

As they approach the study hall, they come upon B. Adams, M. Graham, P. Hinshaw, J. Farman, E. Epperly, D. Melburn, F. Manowski, B. Powers, J. Wilson, and D. Stulken dressed in suits to celebrate the Seniors' Nereuvian New Year and National Jello Week.

The Sophomore girls had their share of fun at slumber parties. Arleen Rogers, Judy Dille, Christy Pederson and Judy Jensen seemed to be all wrapped up in watermelon.

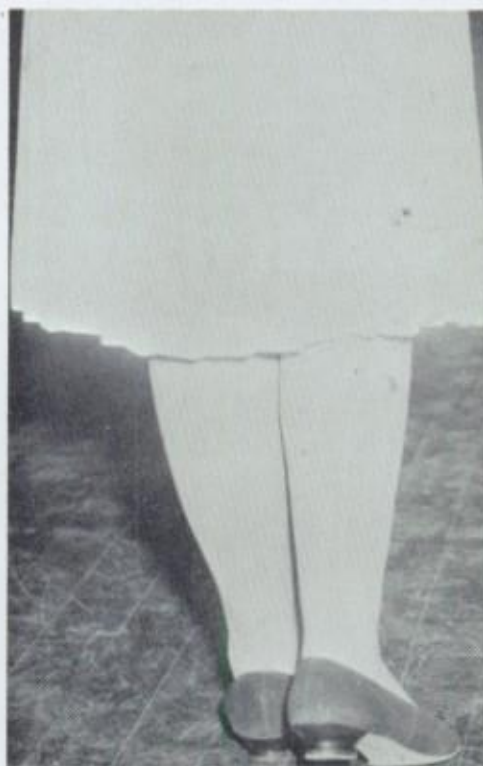

Walking into the auditorium, the girls find themselves in the midst of a card game — or so it seems. Actually it's just G. Zumek, M. Mlachnik, L. Hall, J. Madison, K. Younker, J. Holm in a Pep Club skit for promoting spirit for the Evergreen game.

As they wander up to the golf course, Joy and Linda find Malcolm Graham enjoying himself as he perfects his game. Malcolm and many others spend much of their time at the golf course.

with Fads 'n' Fun

As Joy and Linda finish their excursion, we can see they are wearing squash heels and leotards with pixie boots. The year was full of fads and all the students had fun that will be remembered for years to come.

The last sight makes the girls stop dead in their tracks! It looks like the Gay Twenties or else the wrong school. Neither one — only S. Tonkin, K. Tonkin, L. Erickson, G. Zumek, C. Kranc, R. Darby, J. Holm, L. Hall, J. Madison and a few others playing dress-up! This is common since it occurs quite a bit among the classes.

A Time

Classwork took on a pleasant aspect for Mr. Symond's Spanish classes when the Weavers, who travel to schools with South American exhibits, visited E.H.S. Shown here are: Mr. Symonds, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, Roberta Darby, Donna Rae Gregerson, Karen Sill, and John Wells.

At an assembly honoring the students who had earned a "B" or better grade average in the first quarter of work, Mr. Don Kruzner, assistant superintendent of King County schools, spoke to the students on the abilities and qualities that should be a part of our lives.

"To pass or not to pass — that is the question?" At least that's what D. Williams, J. Dal Santo, J. English, S. Edwardson, L. Hall, and J. Holm seem to

Many Spanish students managed to get to school at 7:30 A.M. in order to watch a University of Washington Spanish course on television. Among these "early birds" were Rick Johnson, Lafe Garnier, Judy Jensen, Janice Rosen, Christy Pederson, and Diane Houser.

to Work

The reasons why students worked downtown were as varied as the types of jobs they held. Some worked for spending money, some to buy clothes, some to save money for college, and some to support a car. Working E.H.S. students this year were found pumping gas and greasing cars at service stations, carrying groceries at super markets, clerking in drug stores, making milkshakes and hamburgers in confectioneries, and doing odd jobs in clothing stores. Dozens of others worked on farms, rising early in the morning and returning soon after their activities in the evenings to work until long after dark.

think as they cram for semester tests at the Enumclaw city library, which was an important link between the school and town.

"What are you planning to do after work?" Bob Leland asks Jim Simundson as they steam cleaned a truck at McNeeley's Service Station.

You could always be sure of being greeted by a smile when you stop in at Bannister's, where Diane Grove worked occasionally during the year.

"What do you have?" asked Don Porter, as he and Carolyn Fant try to decide on what to eat. Waiting for his decision are Fred Van Hoof, Janet Wik and Darlene Hegle who worked regularly at Mel's.

"Where do you want them?" is a familiar saying of Dave Melburne, Tim Strecker, and Doug Morris who carry groceries and stock shelves at the Food Center after school hours.

Fun that wasn't fun. Here, two school spirited seniors, J. Steiert and C. Hergert, clean paint off the school walls after some thoughtless student decided to "have fun" with a spray can of paint.

... And a Time

EHS students found lots of time for play even though there was plenty of work for them to do. Many participated in activities ranging from costume dances to swimming. Regardless of the time of year, the students found things to do. Some went horseback riding while others got pulled out of bed at 4:00 in the morning by a mass of sleepy, but excited girls. Others worked on cars — trying to make them produce more noise.

Snow and water skiing were the favorite sports for some teen-agers while others preferred quieter ones. There was never a lack of things to do and consequently, the year, for EHS students, was packed with delightful activities.

Camping trips were popular among the students. Here Don Lloyd seems excited about some little happening. Looks like he burnt his food!

Working hard trying to get the play in shape for presentation was the goal of the advisor, student directors and heads of the departments. They were K. Balsley, J. Lawrence, Miss Weitman, D. Van Hoof, V. Spangler, L. Harper.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" was the title of the senior play this year. It was a comedy and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. The lead was played by Wendy LeBeau and she did a wonderful job. The cast consisted of M. Mlachnik, R. Darby,

J. Johnson, J. Bartoy, L. Harper, J. Steiert, B. Leland, G. Polenas, P. Carr, J. Farman, L. Hall, W. LeBeau, S. Peterson, M. Baker, M. Garnier, J. Holm.

to Play

To demonstrate his extremely friendly personality, Malcolm Graham posed with Kathy Weber and Darlene Hegle.

Tim Estby and Trudi Botts were one of the couples having fun at the Hobo Holiday. They dressed in typical hobo attire and were the hit of the evening.

Some of the students spent time this winter swimming at the Aqua Barn in Renton. Posed for us are K. Tonkin, J. Holm, S. Hawthorne, S. Tonkin, J. DalSanto who have been swimming in this lusciously warm water.

"Carol, what are you drinking?" could describe the look on sleepy Mary Jo's face at one of the various kidnap breakfasts that were given during the year.

Some students worked on cars in their spare time. Here G. Damiano and M. Mitchell, have one of the problems that plague car owners . . . a dropped transmission.

We Serve You with a Smile

An important aspect of student life at EHS were the many services willingly — even eagerly — performed by students of all classes. These services range from the unpleasant task of dirty laundry and the cold, muddy job of the paddle squad to the pleasant task of the home ec girls missing a test to transfer the equipment into the newly decorated home ec room.

We wish we could picture the dozens of other services around the school such as decorating for dances, art displays in the office, the maintenance crew which does odd jobs around the building, and the many services performed by school departments for community organizations.

"Unwilling" service is also a part of student life. Nearly everyday the janitors have the help of "volunteers" who just might have been tardy to school or to a class.

Tremendously enjoying their duty of cleaning up the boys' gym after a basketball game were a few of the energetic members of Girls' Club. They are Marion Link, Linda Hall, Georgia Veal, Julianne Dal Santo, Kristine Hansen, and Trudi Botts.

One of the un-academic activities of the home ec. classes was the transferring to the remodeled cooking room ($9,000) of cooking utensils, cutlery, and cookbooks from the ag shop, the chorus room, and the faculty lunch room where they had been holding classes temporarily. Some of the girls who worked at this job were Marsha Arnett, Kathy Carr, Gayle Hinshaw, Karen Gunderson, and Sandi Stulken.

"Geel! We should charge for our laundry service," said Lynn Dickson, right, to Don McDaniels. Lynn and Don are two of the football managers who kept the varsity football uniforms clean after the Hornets had been playing in ankle-deep mud.

"Ouch!" We sometimes wonder if the paddle squad ever hit anyone in the line of duty, but we do know that they did a good job of keeping the elementary and high school kids off the field during the football games. L to R: Richard Alcorn, Larry Hansen, Richard Box, and Grant Rodgers.

During their first year in the junior-senior high building the eighth graders have the task of cleaning the grounds outside the school. Carrying out this tradition are Judy Jameyson, Mary Jo Gelsvik, Patricia Trowse, Jim Klinkhammer, Bruce Varney and Raymond Colville.

Work and Play Mold Their Future

Difficult and varied academic courses as well as numerous extra-curricular activities kept the junior high students busy throughout the entire 1959-60 school year. Activities ranging from cleaning up the school grounds to their daily gab fest at the cafeteria tables rounded out their education.

Their interest in social activities such as dances, mixers and parties increased as the months went by. Through the help of their physical education teachers, the junior high students were instructed in the art of dancing and were given two class periods for mixers.

The peppy junior high yell leaders with their bright, sunny smiles were an inspiration to their football and basketball teams by their constant insistence to "fight, fight, fight." Their invigorating spirit helped the students cheer their teams to victory.

Congratulations were in order to the entire junior high student body for their tremendous success in academic courses and social life.

Members of this year's peppy junior high yell staff were Gayle Parmenter, Nancy Jensen, Christine Fant, and Vicki Perin.

Homecoming 1959

At an assembly honoring the classes of '34 and '59 October 30, the Homecoming Royalty was chosen from the surrounding candidates. That night the largest crowd this year was on hand to cheer the Hornets on to victory. The Hornets fought to an impressive 28-0 victory over a favored Puyallup squad. The clear October evening made a fine setting for the presentation of the Homecoming Court at halftime. Immediately following the game was the Homecoming Dance. The music was provided by The Burke Garrett Combo, and the theme was The Enchanted Forest.

Adding spice to our Homecoming program were Mistress and Master of Ceremonies Marilyn Bush and George Polenas.

"Twas the Night Before Christmas"

On the evening of December 19, 1959, the Class of 1960 presented the annual Senior Ball which was entitled, "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" and was held in the girls' gym. The music was furnished by the "Playboys."

Something new was added this year. Nine lovely senior girls were selected by the faculty and later voted upon by the entire student body to determine who would be the "Belle of the Ball." The candidates were Kay Younker, Rosalynn Craig, Sharon Tonkin, Joy Johnson, Linda Hall, Elaine Engeset, Julie Holm, Lola Lundquist, and Wendy LeBeau. The student body elected Queen Joy Johnson and Princesses Kay Younker and Elaine Engeset to reign over the festivities.

Appropriately carrying out the theme, the colors were red and silver. Side scenes were various scenes taken from the story "'Twas the Night Before Christmas." The bandstand was a huge fireplace with the band playing in front of the hearth. The refreshment stand featured Santa's workshop and the ceiling was red and silver crepe paper entwined together.

The general chairman in charge of creating this lovely spectacle was Julie Holm. Her able assistants were: Viv Spangler, ceiling; Linda Jensen, center-piece and bandstand; Lola Lundquist, refreshments; Mary Jo Mlachnik, refreshment stand; Jim Bartoy, entertainment; Larry Ogle, lighting; Rosalynn Craig, programs and tickets; Pete Leinonen, publicity; Joy Johnson, entrance; and Juli Dal Santo, miscellaneous.

Sandy Vincent and dashing Mike Noble seem to be having fun as you can guess by glancing at their smiling faces.

Boy Most Likely to Succeed, Jerry Steiert, waits patiently for the Girl Most Likely to Succeed, Kay Younker, to measure him for his cap and gown.

Likeable Lad and Lass, Nick Galimanis and Linda Jensen, take a short walk before school.

Dave Ogle, Boy with the Presttiest Hair, gives Joy Johnson, Girl with the prettiest Hair, a new hair style.

Best Dressed Boy and Girl, Mary Jo Mlachnik and George Polenas, chat with Jerry Creek and Linda Hall, Boy and Girl Most Interested in Sports.

Seniors Choice

Karen Sill, Girl with the Prettiest Legs, and Lea Perin, Most Curvacious figure, stand by as Malcolm Graham, Handsomest Physique, shows off his bulging biceps.

John Young and Suzanne Smith, Best Boy and Girl Dancers, are caught trying to make up some new dance steps.

Judy McCormack, RIGHT, Sunniest Smile, tries to hurry Wendy LeBeau, Better Late Than Never, to class.

Dorie Van Hoof and Jim Bartoy, both Personality Plus, got quite a laugh out of a "Mad" comic book.

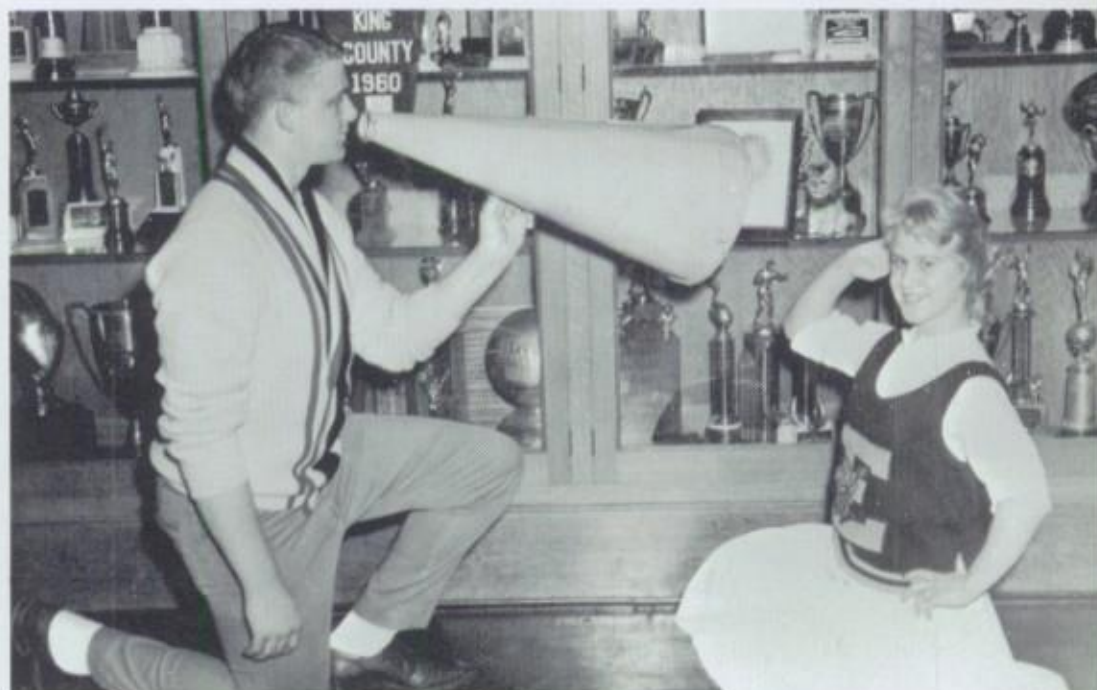

Something down the hall caught the attention of Cutest Girl, Roberta Darby, as Jim Kuhuski, Cutest Boy, helps her with her books between classes.

Lola Lundquist and Vivian Spangler, Most Outstanding Citizen and Most Dependable, seem unaware of the tricks of Pete Leinonen, Class Cut-Up.

for Hall of Fame

Don Porter, Class Casanova, lives up to his name by trying to flirt with Carol Kranc, Most Pep.

Linda Erickson, Girl with the Prettiest Eyes, doesn't seem too happy about John Carnino, Boy with the Prettiest Eyes, trying to help her put her lipstick on.

Dick Todnem and Margaret Zinc, our bashful seniors, find it's rather hard to talk to one another.

Organizations

Strength Gained Through Unity

Nature is organized. Wildlife groups together — birds in flocks, elk in herds. Trees and plants grow to form forests, and mountain streams join and make mighty rivers.

Our school, too, is made up of organizations. The scholarly members of Torch and Honor Roll are as firmly rooted in the educational soil of the school as are the stately trees in our forests. The cheerful, bubbling streams are characteristic of the Song and Yell Leaders, Pep Club, and Pep Band — and in dozens of other organizations, as in Nature, individuals join to provide benefits and companionship for the many.

Nature has more significance for one E.H.S. organization than mere comparison, for Ski Club is dependent on her to provide abundant snowfall. Some of its members are pictured here as they pack the Enumclaw Recreational Council bus for a weekly trip to the ski area which they hope will be as well blanketed with snow as the scene to the left.

Looking over the minutes of the last student Board of Control meeting are: SEATED: S.B.A. President Mary Jo Mlachnik and Secretary Roberta Darby. STANDING behind them are Dick Kovacevich, vice president, and Nick Galimanis, treasurer.

Student Government Guided Our School with Steady Hand

Revision of the E.H.S. Student Body Association constitution to give greater representation to the junior and sophomore classes on the student Board of Control was the most important action of the B.O.C. during the 1959-60 school year. Persistent work by the constitution committee, headed by Chairman Vivian Spangler, brought far greater representation to underclassmen in the B.O.C., which for years has consisted of one sophomore, two juniors, and about 18 seniors.

Under the leadership of President Mary Jo Mlachnik, the second girl to ever be president of the E.H.S. Student Body and the second consecutive girl prexy, student government had one of its most active and effective years. Renewal of the Traffic Court and establishment of a Litterbug Court under the Girls' Club direction did much to control student driving problems and maintain the good appearance of school and grounds.

Early in the year the B.O.C. established, with the hope that it would become a tradition, the practice of dismissing all school assemblies by classes, with the seniors leaving first. Another important B.O.C. action was the sponsoring of Enumclaw High School's first "Career Day." On this day time was given to all senior high students to attend two informative sessions about careers in which they had interest.

Other activities of the Board of Control were awarding concessions at ball games to organizations, regulating school dances, approving constitution of new organizations seeking representation on the B.O.C., conducting student body elections, and keeping a watchful eye on the S.B.A. finances.

If You Seek It, Wisdom May Be Found

Just carrying an extra book around and trying to look ambitious doesn't make you a member of the Torch Honor Society. It's the student who studies a little harder in classes and who maintains an average of 3.33 who qualifies for Torch membership. Miss Violet Cass, who has contributed much of her time to promoting scholarships, has been advisor of Torch Society for the last fifteen years.

The maintaining of high scholastic standards and the raising of money to provide college scholarships for the deserving seniors, were the main objectives of Torch Society. During the last nine years the scholarships have totaled $700 and helped thirteen students on to higher education.

As the year began 40 senior high students were qualified for Torch membership. There were 15 seniors, 11 juniors, and 14 sophomores. Thirty-five members are pictured below. Those Torch members not pictured are Sharon Tonkin, Mary Lou Trump, Coralee Moeller, Stephanie Hall, and Mary Hegland.

Senior high students whose scholastic grades have qualified them for Torch are: FIRST ROW: P. Parmenter, M. Baker, K. Smith, D. Garrett, S. Smith, G. Zumek, B. Spangler, S. Anderson, J. Jensen, D. VanHoof. SECOND ROW: G. Allen, M. Bush, D. Grove, V. Spangler, L. Cerne, R. Darby, K. Riverside, C. Hansen, L. Lundquist. THIRD ROW: C. Brauner, L. Berilla, J. Tice, A. Cunningham, D. Campbell, K. Younker, G. Potocnik, R. Corlett, W. Le Beau. FOURTH ROW: J. Steiert, J. Wells, P. Leinonen, P. Gunderson, T. Brown, A. Peterson, D. Kovacevich.

Eagerly delving into their first assignment we find the junior members of the annual staff soliciting ads in the heart of Enumclaw's business district. They are C. Ross, J. Hunt, S. Knock, M. Warner, K. Carlson, and D. Garrett.

With Nature as the theme for the '59-'60 Cascadian, the energetic members of the annual staff put forth their efforts to produce an annual that would give you many hours of enjoyment and many fond memories to look back on.

Mr. Gerald Campbell, our advisor, and Linda Jensen editor, had a few trying moments as the deadlines crept up, but the staff always managed to pull through. Assisting Linda this year were Carol Kranc, business manager, and Roberta Darby, senior editor. Other senior members on the staff were Julie Holm, Sharon Hawthorne, Joy Johnson, Linda Hall, and Rosalynn Craig. Junior members were Mary Warner, Jan Hunt, Sharee Knock, Kathy Carlson, Carole Ross, and Debbie Garrett.

Our photographers, Don Lloyd, Hank Johnson, and Denny Collins were forever having staff members yelling at them to take pictures, but they were very co-operative and we hardly ever heard a complaining word from them.

Don Lloyd, head photographer, is showing his two assistants a few important items in the operation of the camera. Eagerly watching and at the same time learning (we hope) are Hank Johnson and Denny Collins.

Vivian Spangler Hornet Editor

Vivian started her career in the newspaper world in her freshman year, and she has struggled for four years and has now reached the coveted position as editor of the Hornet.

In her freshman year she edited the junior high paper and in her sophomore year she was advisor to the junior high paper. When Vivian was a junior she helped form Quill and Scroll Club and wrote the High-Lights for the Courier Herald. During both her junior and senior year she was a correspondent for the Tacoma News Tribune.

Staff Announced for 2nd Semester

Diane Grove will be Hornet editor during the second semester of the 1959-60 school year and Gerri Zumek and Vivian Spangler will be co-editors of the 1960 Senior Edition, it was announced yesterday by Mr. G. Campbell, publications advisor.

Diane and Vivian will each be completing their third years on the Hornet staff, and Gerri's assignment as co-editor of the special Senior Edition culminates her second year in journalism.

All three girls are members of Quill and Scroll, the journalism honor society.

Upon entering Enumclaw High's "hallowed halls" the opening day of school, Wednesday, September 9, students were pleasantly greeted by a spectacular array of much needed building improvements which financially added up to more than $50,000.

Strolling down the halls en route to classes everyone soon noticed the new sprinkling system, which was very evident by the large, black pipes running overhead in the halls. This improvement alone cost $21,000. Many interesting facts about the sprinkling system were later divulged at the opening assembly.

Linda Erickson Business Manager

Linda started her journalism career in her junior year as a reporter. Near the end of her junior year she became assistant to the business manager and now in her senior year she is the business manager of the Hornet.

Linda has a tremendous job soliciting ads for the Hornet and she should certainly be complimented for the fine job she is doing.

Girls' Club Enthusiastic and Loyal

Under the leadership of the officers, (J. Dal Santo, pres.; D. Campbell, vice-pres.; and L. Hall, sec.-treas.) Girls' Club accomplished much for the girls of EHS and for the entire school as well. One project of Girls' Club this year was Litterbug Court, which encouraged students to keep their school clean. For a money making project Girls' Club sold pickles in the cafeteria during lunch. In order to promote better participation a competition was set up between sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Each class had to give a skit in front of the other members with the teachers as judges. The losing classes had to give a party for the winner. The big event of the year was the Girls' Club Tolo. The theme was "Hobo Holiday" and the dance was considered by many as the best one this year and the unique feature was that the couples came dressed as Hobos. This year the Girls' Club carried out its purpose of service, leadership, and friendship to its fullest meaning.

Litterbug officials J. Dal Santo and S. Smith gave sentences out to offenders D. Cameron, R. Cox, L. Dameron and G. Oliver.

On their way to the "Hobo Holiday" are: D. Grove, F. Romedo, K. Dobson, L. Perin, D. Johnson and R. Eddy.

Art Club Participates in Most E. H. S. Functions

Working industriously on their leather projects are the Art Club officers. They are Sharon Melburn, vice president; Julie Holm, president; and Joy Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of Art Club, according to Mrs. Dihel, advisor, is to get students interested in art. It includes students from the eighth grade to the twelfth. The pupils don't have to be able to draw to join; interest and willingness to work, are the main qualifications.

The Art Club is called upon for many jobs which are not the usual routine, such as making notebook covers for some of the P.E. classes. They can always be counted on to complete an assigned job and are always willing to work.

The Art Club was called upon many times to silk screen covers for programs. Here Mrs. Dihel, Art Club advisor, explains to Paul Hinshaw, Dallas Deusen, Janet Wik, Janet Madison, and Marie Garnier how to use the silk screening equipment.

F. T. A. — Science Club Lead to Careers

Individual scientific research and experiments formed the basic interest which prompted E.H.S. amateur scientists to reorganize the Science Club this year. Under the direction of Mr. Nosler a small but strong organization was formed which carried on complex research projects in chemistry and physics. Although membership was open to all students in grades 9 through 12, only students actively carrying on a research problem were accepted as members. In addition to their projects Science Club had regular meetings which were kept interesting by demonstrations, experiments and guest speakers.

To get students interested in teaching as a profession and to learn about scholarships, colleges, and opportunities in teaching were goals of the Future Teachers' Club. In its second year at E.H.S. this organization was under the leadership of Roberta Darby, president, and Miss Weitman, advisor. One big accomplishment of the organization this year was to get its constitution approved by the B.O.C. Another project, which was carried on with the assistance of Mr. Merle Dihel of the J. J. Smith Intermediate School faculty, was having members assist grade school teachers. F.T.A. also had guest speakers at their meetings and planned a field trip to the University of Washington.

These four led a strong Science Club. FRONT: Malcolm Graham, v. pres.; and Pete Lienonen, pres. BACK: Dick Mariotti, sec.-treas.; and Mr. Nosler, advisor.

Mrs. Caviezel, Vivian Spangler, Linda Howe, Judy Richter, and Diane Grove spent many long hours on the new cookbook, the first time such a project has been attempted by Enumclaw's F.H.A.

Homemakers of the Future

Most important of the Future Homemakers of America's projects was the 1959-1960 Homecoming in which most of the 119 members participated. Another mammoth project this year was putting out a 100-recipe cookbook sponsored by 36 merchants of Enumclaw.

Other projects which kept the F.H.A. girls busy were selling pencils, serving at the Future Farmers of America Scholarship Dinner and other banquets, and repairing old toys to give to needy children.

Four members of F.H.A. earned the coveted State Homemakers Degree. They were: Linda Hall, Linda Howe, Suzanne Smith, and Vivian Spangler. To receive this award the girls have to be an active member of F.H.A. for three years and already have won their Junior and Chapter Degrees.

This year's F.H.A. officers were: Linda Mikus treasurer; Doris Van Hoof, secretary; Lorilyn Greschok, vice-president; and Suzanne Smith, president.

Learning To Do, Doing To Learn Is F. F. A. Motto

To encourage leadership for farm youths, learn cooperation, and promote farm interest are the main goals every year for Future Farmers of America.

At the Puyallup Fair the F.F.A. boys won many awards. A late spring activity they participated in was the parliamentary procedure contest in which Enumclaw has always done well.

A major project last year was the Parent and Son Banquet which was held on December 2. Many state and local awards were given at this dinner. The dinner was served by the Future Homemakers of America.

The F.F.A. boys have a new tractor every year and use it to do custom work around the community and at their own farms.

F.F.A. Chapter Sweetheart for 1959-1960 is LaVena Cavanaugh. She succeeds Millie Johnson, the past sweetheart, who held the honor for the last three years.

Debaters-Dramatists Had Silver Tongue

Coached by Mr. Lou Fagnan, many students participated in debate and interpretive reading during the year. Working entirely after school hours, the debate group gathered, scanned and mastered stacks of material on the year's question — "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Substantially Increase Its Regulation of Labor Unions."

During the season the debaters participated in four meets and did word-battle with nine other schools. They wound up their year by entering the Puget Sound League North-South Round Robin tourney at Bothell and the State Invitational Meet at the College of Puget Sound. Interpretive readers also took part in the CPS meet.

After a year's "leave of absence" Thespians Club was revived this year under the supervision of Miss Louise Weitman, senior English teacher and drama director. Officers of the reorganized drama group were: Linda Erickson, president; Julianne Dal Santo, vice-president; and LaVerne Hawthorne, secretary-treasurer.

Thespians set as their purpose the advancements of standards of excellence in dramatic arts. Specifically, the goal was to help students to develop poise and self-control and to appreciate dramatic literature and its techniques.

The members of Thespians are: FIRST ROW: L. Cavanaugh, D. Smith, D. Van Hoof, J. Hunt, S. Melburn, M. Warner, G. Robison, T. Botts, V. Spangler, D. Grove, L. Erickson. SECOND ROW: J. Holm, K. ## Band-aids and Books Their Specialties

A new school nurse, Mrs. Eva MacDonald, supervised the E.H.S. medical center this year, and under her direction the Nurses' Club became an active organization that had as its goal the development of a better understanding of the field of nursing.

Frequently at meetings the club had doctors, nurses, and student nurses as guest speakers. Also a great deal of information was also obtained from colleges and nursing schools and made available to all members.

This year they made Christmas favors for the Kent Nursing Home in Kent, and made a scrapbook for the King County Hospital. They also had a Mother and Daughter tea last spring.

"I want a good book to read!" "I need information for my report!"

Mrs. Worthington and members of the Library Club came to the aid of many E.H.S. students who needed help. During the year they kept constantly busy checking books in and out, filing cards, making out overdue and fine slips, mending books, and keeping the books and magazines in order, and collecting fines.

Among this active organization's many projects were: the annual Christmas Tea for the faculty, keeping the bulletin board in the library gaily decorated, and conducting workshop to show the members how to mend books and learn the mechanics of becoming a good librarian.

Library Club members who have done a great deal to keep the library and books in good condition during the year are: FIRST ROW: R. Chappell, L. Moeller, J. Carnino, J. Lawrence. SECOND ROW: D. Brothers, D. Brevik, B. Henrichs. THIRD ROW: G. Potocnik, D. West, S. Calvert.

Members of the Enumclaw High School Ski Club (the Sitzmark), glided over snowy slopes of the Ski Acres at Snoqualmie Pass for ten successive Saturdays. Mr. Milton Allen drove the ski bus, which was provided by the Enumclaw Recreation Council, and took from 45 to 75 skiers each week.

By showing ski movies at meetings the Ski Club promoted skiing and winter sports and encouraged students to participate in winter activities. Ski instruction was given every week to Ski Club members by Milton Allen free of charge.

After each fun-filled, frolicking day of thrills and instruction the enthusiastic skiers returned home merrily on the ski bus eagerly anticipating and planning the next Saturday's outing.

Lively-Loyal Pepsters Lend Team Spark

A gold jerkin and a maroon "E" on the front is the well known insignia of Pep Club. They were conspicuous in the rooting section at both football and basketball games at which Pep Club members sat and cheered (screamed) in a group.

Pep Club is a service organization which encourages school spirit and sportsmanship throughout the year and promotes activities to help boost the Student Body Association treasury. All proceeds from a dance, and thousands of bags of pop corn, which Pep Club made and sold, were put into the S.B.A. general fund.

Several skits were held throughout the year at pep assemblies under the direction of Kathy Darby, Julia Silvestri, Gerri Zumek, and Sharon Calvert, chairmen, for football and basketball games. Pep Club also made "pep posters" such as "Beat Kent" and "Go, Fight, Win," which were hung in the halls during the football and basketball seasons.

Working on a "magic brew" to encourage school spirit and sportsmanship and insure victory in the Kent-Meridian basketball game were: T. Botts, D. Madison, C. Kranc, G. Robison, M. Rudenick, B. Spangler, and K. Darby. This brew fizzed out before game time for the Hornets were defeated 63 to 46.

The Pep Club, a non-profit service club, helped fill the general S.B.A. treasury by selling pop corn at all home basketball and football games. Here Gerri Zumek and Vivian Spangler clean the pop corn machine after a basketball game.

Lights, Projectors Sound — Action!

Under the direction of Mr. G. Campbell, PAPS members demonstrated the techniques, the skill, and the willingness to keep the complicated junior-senior high audio-visual program running smoothly. The PAPS boys show all the movies at school and many for downtown organizations. Through the school's four motion picture projectors these operators run about 500 movies yearly for an average of 1500 showings a year. The boys also operate filmstrip and opaque projectors, tape-recorders, portable public address systems, phonographs, and radios, and operate the P.A. systems for all football and basketball games.

Boys may become apprentices to Paps as sophomores. To be a member a boy must have and maintain a "C" average, must be dependable and willing to work hard, and must have three faculty recommendations.

Stage Crew. The service rendered by this willing and busy group is not limited to the E.H.S. auditorium. The members of the stage crew are just as likely to be found setting up a public address system at a grade school or putting up lights for a school dance.

The stage crew is at work before school starts in the fall setting up for the opening assembly and after school ends in the spring cleaning up after commencement. During the school year the stage crew is constantly busy setting up microphones, moving band and chorus risers, making, putting up, and taking down stage scenery, and adjusting lights.

A thorough knowledge of a movie projector is one of the obligations of all members of PAPS. Checking a projector are: Noel Polston, Darwin Meisner, Russel Sorenson, Jim Myhre and Bill Dorn.

Help! Fire!

At this year's first meeting of the Firemen's Club, Mr. Warner Thomas, advisor of the group, stressed, "This idea is to empty the building as fast as possible . . . to be ready in case there is a fire."

The student firemen kept this thought in mind as they worked toward the club's objective of promoting student safety and protecting the school building from fire. Practice fire drills were held once a month to acquaint every student with the nearest fire exit and proper conduct in case of fire emergency. Making sure that fire extinguishers, hoses, and other equipment were in working condition were some of the important responsibilities of the Firemen's Club.

Another obligation of the firemen this year was to become familiar with the added fire escapes, the newly installed sprinkling system and the revised fire signals - - - all of which were part of the $50,000 fire-roofing project which was completed during the summer.

The members of Firemen Club are, FIRST ROW: D. Collins, G. Strom, J. Wells, L. Draghi, F. Zemek, D. Morris. SECOND ROW: D. Reed, P. Hinshaw, D. Kovacevich, T. Strecker, T. ## G. L. C. Attracts

The Girls' Letter Club was organized primarily as an opportunity for girls who enjoy sports to participate in them outside of classes, but because G.L.C. activities are not limited to sports it has become one of the largest and most active clubs in the school.

Sports offered this year were soccer, volley tennis, volleyball, badminton, table tennis, and softball. Also, thanks to the cooperation of the Enumclaw Bowl and the Enumclaw Golf Club, G.L.C. was able to add bowling and golf to its program. More than half of the 107 mem-

In addition to sports many other projects were on the G.L.C. program. One of the most noteworthy was playing Santa to a needy family. Another project was a Christmas Tea given for mothers. Other activities were the Back-to-School dance, concessions after several ball games, and a sock dance after a basketball game.

And the score goes up another notch, boom, boom! The pep staff and students go wild with enthusiasm as the mighty Hornets score against the Evergreen Wolverines. Backed by lots of school spirit the Hornets made the final score 54-40.

This was the frequent cry of the yell and song leaders as they cheered the Hornets on.

New uniforms and flashing pom poms set the scene for song leaders: Elaine Engeset, Cheri Ahmann, Diane Smith and Queen Joy Johnson. They practiced long and hard to learn new routines. These plus a peppy band helped the highstepping song leaders lead the students with pep and enthusiasm.

Officers and Scholars Guide Jr. High

The Junior High Scholarship Club was organized for the purpose of honoring those eighth and ninth graders with a 3.3 or better grade average. Eighth graders who had at least a 3.3 average in grade 7 become members when they enter the eighth grade. Freshman membership is based on the 8th grade record.

Since 1955 the organization has encouraged high scholarship by giving Merit Award pins at Class Day. Each year they are given to an outstanding boy and girl. At the 1959 Class Day Linda Cerne, Michael Bennett, and Archie Pedersen were honored with the pins.

Members of the club were largely responsible for the success of the magazine sale this year. The sale made a net profit of $300 which was used for two college scholarships for seniors.

The Junior High Board of Control had little business this year, but are looking forward, with much eagerness, to the time when the Junior High will be sole occupants of this building and their Board of Control will mean much more to them.

Jr. High Boys'—Girls' Clubs Were Active

This year the Junior High Boys' and Girls' Clubs have had a very busy schedule under the guidance of Mr. Bob Campbell and Miss Jean Gall. At their meetings many vocational and travel movies were shown, and a University exchange student who had traveled to Finland, spoke at a combined meeting on February 24. Also, several joint playnights were held at which the students engaged in many activities such as badminton, basketball, and dancing.

The two clubs also sold refreshments at many of their Junior High games to raise money for their treasury to pay for the expenses of having Nora Frizella, the exchange student, come here.

Highs-Lows Blend As Band Supports

Under the leadership and direction of Jim Bartoy president, and Mr. Leslie Walden director, the Enumclaw High School band provided musical entertainment for the ball games, concerts, and other school functions this year.

At all of the home football games cleverly arranged skits were put on for the entertainment of the spectators during halftime. These were usually quite amusing and they captivated the interest of everyone.

The band performed at the Fall Concert which was held on Nov. 24, at the Christmas program on Dec. 22, and at the Band Contest held April 20 at Sumner. Some members of the band were selected to play in the All State Band which was held Feb. 18,

in Perfect Harmony Maroon and Gold

19, and 20. Members were also selected to play in the Solo Ensemble Contest which took place at Franklin Pierce Feb. 13. The band, suited in their dashing maroon and gold uniforms, marched in the Daffodil Parade which was in April. To top off a successful year a Spring Concert was held May 15.

Bringing recognition to the E.H.S. band were the cornet duet, Joel Allen, and John Rengstorf, who performed at the Music Club Scholarship Concert, and Pete Leinonen who was the local winner and semi-final winner of the Robin Hood Rose Bowl band contest.

The band has had a year filled with success and a lot of fun for all members.

The Stardusters, Enumclaw's dance band, seem to be having a good time as they pause for a moment's rest while playing for a dance. They are: BACK ROW: H. Johnson, F. Bannister, P. Porter, J. Rengstorf, J. Steiert, and J. Bartoy. FRONT ROW: R. Mariotti, C. Hergert, and T. Brown.

MR. WALDEN

Mr. Les Walden, director of the E.H.S. band has put in many hours of work to provide a first-class band for our school.

PETE LEINONEN

Pete plays the sousaphone and was the local and semi-final winner of the Robin Hood Rose Bowl band contest.

Kristine Hansen played her flute in the Robin Hood Rose Bowl contest and for other activities this year.

The brass sextet who performed at concerts this year also displayed their talent by playing at the Old Soldier's Home in Orting and also at the Hospital Party on Dec. 16. They are F. Bannister, J. Bartoy, M. Ulrich, P. Leinonen, J. Allen, and J. Rengstorf.

Without the willing assistance of the accompanists, the solo groups and the chorus would be in dire need. Pictured are Linda Berilla, Betty Baarstad, Rosalynn Craig, and Jerry Steiert.

Mr. Estby is the director of chorus and the various choral groups.

Vocalists Harmonize Notable Events

The advanced chorus sang their way into the hearts of their audiences this last year with their inspirational music. Leading them to heights of great success were Jim Bartoy president, Cheri Ahmann vice president, Dan Swanson secretary, and Mr. Harold R. Estby, advisor.

At the Fall Concert they sang several selections from "Oklahoma" which were presented last year at the Spring Concert and presented again this year because of great public enjoyment.

On Dec. 22 the Christmas Concert was held in the auditorium. The chorus sang a cantata which was a presentation of the Christmas Story and consisted of 63 pages. Paul Carr was the narrator for this program.

A few of the more talented members were selected to sing at the Solo Contest which took place Feb. 13. The Chorus Contest was held April 2 at Clover Park. E.H.S. participants were again a few promising artists from the chorus.

There were several groups which brought recognition to the chorus. These were the senior boys' quartet, the senior girls' quartet, two junior girls' sextets, and a junior high girls' glee club which was started this year by Mr. Estby.

Long hours of hard work and practicing made our chorus an enjoyable one.

Members of the advanced chorus this year were: FIRST ROW: N. Meisner, L. Linder, J. Steiert, R. Lennon, L. Dickson, L. Cromoga, L. Moeller, J. Lawrence, D. Brothers, A. Gronvik, and D. Lundquist, J. Cutting, D. McDaniels, D. Stulken, J. Creek, J. Bartoy, B. Henrichs, G. Veal, R. Darby, M. Baker, S. Tonkin, and C. Sorenson.

The junior girls' sextet performed at the Old Soldiers' Home in Orting, for the Grandmothers' Club and for various other organizations this year. Pictured are Kathy Carlson, Rosie Margenson, Cheri Ahmann, Judy Cutting, Kathy Dobson, and LaVena Cavanaugh.

Another junior girls' sextet which was formed sang for the Fall Concert and various other occasions this year. FIRST ROW: Lee Ann Linder, Linda Moeller. SECOND ROW: Karen Korte, Sharon Calvert. THIRD ROW: Barb Henrichs, Carol Sorenson. FOURTH ROW: Betty Baarstad, Linda Berilla.

The junior high girls' glee club was started this year by Mr. Estby. They performed for the Fall Concert and other occasions this year. FIRST ROW: C. Bitney, C. Steiert, J. Osborne, D. Schut, G. Mallery, D. Smith, M. Williamson, A. Van Putten, P. Tamm. SECOND ROW: K. Gunderson, J. LaCasey, J. Lawrence, V. Matthews, P. Watson, C. Silvestri, J. Zaviski, J. LaBree, C. Frisina, and A. Always in great demand were these talented senior boys who sang in a quartet. Pictured are Jerry Creek, Jim Bartoy, Pat Locke, and Paul Carr.

Nature Enjoyed by All E. H. S. Students

The Green River Gorge, only three miles north of Enumclaw, is one of the most beautiful and spectacular wonders of Nature in the Pacific Northwest. In addition to providing an awe-inspiring attraction for tourists, it offers excellent fishing and swimming.

Enumclaw Junior-Senior High students of all classes take advantage of these facilities. The clear, sparkling water, barren rocks, and shading trees of this marvel of Nature are genuinely enjoyed and appreciated. As the sunshine-filled spring weather rolls around, swimming and fishing are thought of longingly by all students, whether they be eighth graders or seniors.

The sunny, warm days of spring seem to lure students of every class into relaxing on the school lawn. Shown here in a casual pose are Doug Morris (Junior), Diane Erickson (Freshman), Tom Maks and Ellen Child (both Juniors), and Marilyn Bush and Ron Reed (both Sophomores).

Class of 1960

Leading the Class of 1960 through its final year at EHS were Secretary Linda Jensen, President Colin Hergert, and Vice President John Wells. We lost our Treasurer, Danny Swanson, at the semester when he moved to Ballard. Our class advisers, who did a tremendous job of guiding us through our most enjoyable as well as difficult year, were Mr. George Worthington, Miss Louise Weitman, and Mr. Frank Osborne, to all of whom the Seniors owe a deep debt of gratitude.

As the neat rows of seniors file in and quietly take their places to receive their diplomas they know at last that they are crossing the threshold into a new life. A twelve-year-old journey is over and now they will put aside the Friday night games and dances, the noon social gatherings, the many activities, for something bigger.

Twelve years . . . grade school days with their fractions, recesses, stuffed desks . . . the scared feeling on the first day in the seventh grade . . . that September in '56 when, as freshmen, we had reached the top rung of the junior high ladder and were feeling mighty important . . . our Freshman Class play "From Dolls to Dates" with Suzanne Smith playing the lead . . . that rude awakening when we crossed over to the senior high section of EHS and found ourselves the "babies" of the school . . . how we proved ourselves worthy by giving our first big dance "The Big Top Hop" which was a huge success . . .

Class Day 1958, when we found ourselves invading the Junior section. Ahead of us lay two fun filled years of school before graduation . . . those pep assemblies when we tore them apart by winning the pep jug for the Junior class and voted three of our classmates in as cheerleaders. We went to state tournament that year, too, remember? Our Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom held on April 18 under the direction of banquet chairman Kay Younker and dance chairman Mary Jo Mlachnik . . . how the sports field attracted many Juniors, both boys and girls . . . five Junior boys who were outstanding players in football and the three boys who made the varsity squad in basketball . . .

Class Day, 1959, when 149 of us marched with great ceremony into the senior section . . . Homecoming and the defeat of Puyallup 28 to 0 . . . the disappointed but proud feeling at the basketball defeat of our last game of the season . . . Our Senior Ball "Twas a Night Before Christmas" . . . last minute rehearsals for the Senior play, another struggle, for some of us, script writing, costuming, make-up, lighting and scenery, composed the picture of the Senior Play "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" as Wendy LeBeau and Roberta Darby stepped forth with the leads . . .

There is a strange ringing still left in the ears of the Class of 1960, for they can still hear the not soon to be forgotten strains of our Alma Mater as another class leaves the happy hallways of Enumclaw High School.

Future's Challenge

As our senior year drew to a close, many of us began seriously thinking of the future. Scholarships, college, and work became the topic of our conversations and pictured here with our class adviser, Mr. Worthington, are just some of the many seniors that applied for scholarships. # Studies, Sports, Fun on Junior Agenda

With Doug Morris at the helm as president and a trio of advisors — Miss Haynes, Mr. Melgard and Mr. Borreson — charting the course, the class of '61 sailed through a memorable and profitable year.

The Junior Prom and Banquet took the honors as the most important activity on the Junior schedule. It was held in April and was a big success.

The fun-filled evening was highlighted by the reading of the senior class will, delightful entertainment, introduction of the Senior Class officers, and the old stand-bys, eating and dancing.

The Junior-sponsored car wash in the cold month of February brought about many clean cars, many frosty faces, and a respectable addition to the class treasury. A large profit was also made at the Kent football game where the Juniors had charge of concessions and the sock dance following.

Led by Dick Kovacevich, vice president of the Student Body Association, Juniors held many important offices. Some of them were: F.H.A. — Lorilyn Greschok, vice president, and Linda Mikus, secretary-treasurer; Girls' Club — Dee Campbell, vice president; G.L.C. — Linda Mikus vice president, and Judy Tice, secretary-treasurer. Diane Smith and Cheri Ahmann were song leaders and LaVena Cavanaugh was a member of the yell staff.

Both boys and girls brought the class recognition in the sports field. Boys receiving varsity letters in football were: Dick Kovacevich, Doug Morris, Bud Kirk, Dave Grove, Louis Draghi and Bill Johnson. Kovacevich and Grove also lettered in basketball. Kathy Weston, Paul Gunderson, Dee Campbell, Jim Myrhe, Judy Tice, Ron Hanson, Lorilyn Greschok, Gloria Robison and Joan Hase were on the tennis team.

Sophomores Shine in Sports and Studies

A different school world confronted the Sophomore Class as it entered into the realm of senior high, but under the adequate guidance of Mr. Fagnan and Mr. Symonds, class advisors, and four dynamic officers, the class had a successful and prosperous year.

The Sophomore Hop, which was held February 6, was the climax of the year and was very successful under the planning and direction of Kathy Darby, Barb Spangler and their various committees.

By selling popcorn, coffee and pop at the Auburn football game on Nov. 19 and sponsoring a sock dance afterwards the Class of '62 added $175 to its treasury. More money came in from 75¢ class dues.

This year's sophomores were mighty proud of their unbeatable football team. Under Coach Hash the sophomore team was undefeated in seven games and outscored its opponents 131 to 27.

The sophomore girls also excelled in sports. The sophomore volleyball team beat the junior and senior girls to win the G.L.C. championship and the right to play the faculty men's team.

Many future leaders are forming from this class, for in addition to extra-curricular activities the Class of '62 also excelled in the classroom. Fourteen members of the class attained a 3.3 scholarship average, which gave them membership on the Torch Honor Society.

On the basis of this year's record the Class of '62 can be expected to be a credit to Enumclaw High School during the next two years.

Sports and Study Challenged Frosh

Helping the Freshman class achieve a banner year were the advisors, Mrs. North and Mr. Ronhaar. Also deserving recognition for a most useful and enjoyable year are the class officers — President Bryan Elsner, Vice President Buster Erickson, Secretary Marsha Arnett, and Treasurer Dan Ritchie.

During the zenith of activity in the winter months the Freshman Class had a Christmas candy sale and a Valentine dance to help contribute to their "class kitty." Other money raising projects included dues from the members, a spring dance, and a spring car wash.

In sports the Freshmen lived up to the Hornet tradition of good sportsmanship and clean playing. The junior high cheerleaders, all freshmen, promoted team spirit and encouragement.

Boasting one of the few "straight A" student in E.H.S. (Joe Leinonen), a good percent of pupils on honor roll, and one of the first accelerated math classes in the state, the Freshmen class proved to be outstanding not only in extra-curricular activities but also in academic work.

With two satisfying junior high years behind them the Class of '63" is now looking forward to starting their memorable high school days.

One of the six freshman English classes, into which the 160 members of the class were divided, is pictured below enjoying a free reading period.

Earning recognition and achieving a goal were the aspirations of the Freshman class officers during the 59-60 school year. FRONT: Marsha Arnett, secretary; Paul Erickson, vice president. BACK: Dan Ritchie, treasurer; and Bryan Elsner, president.

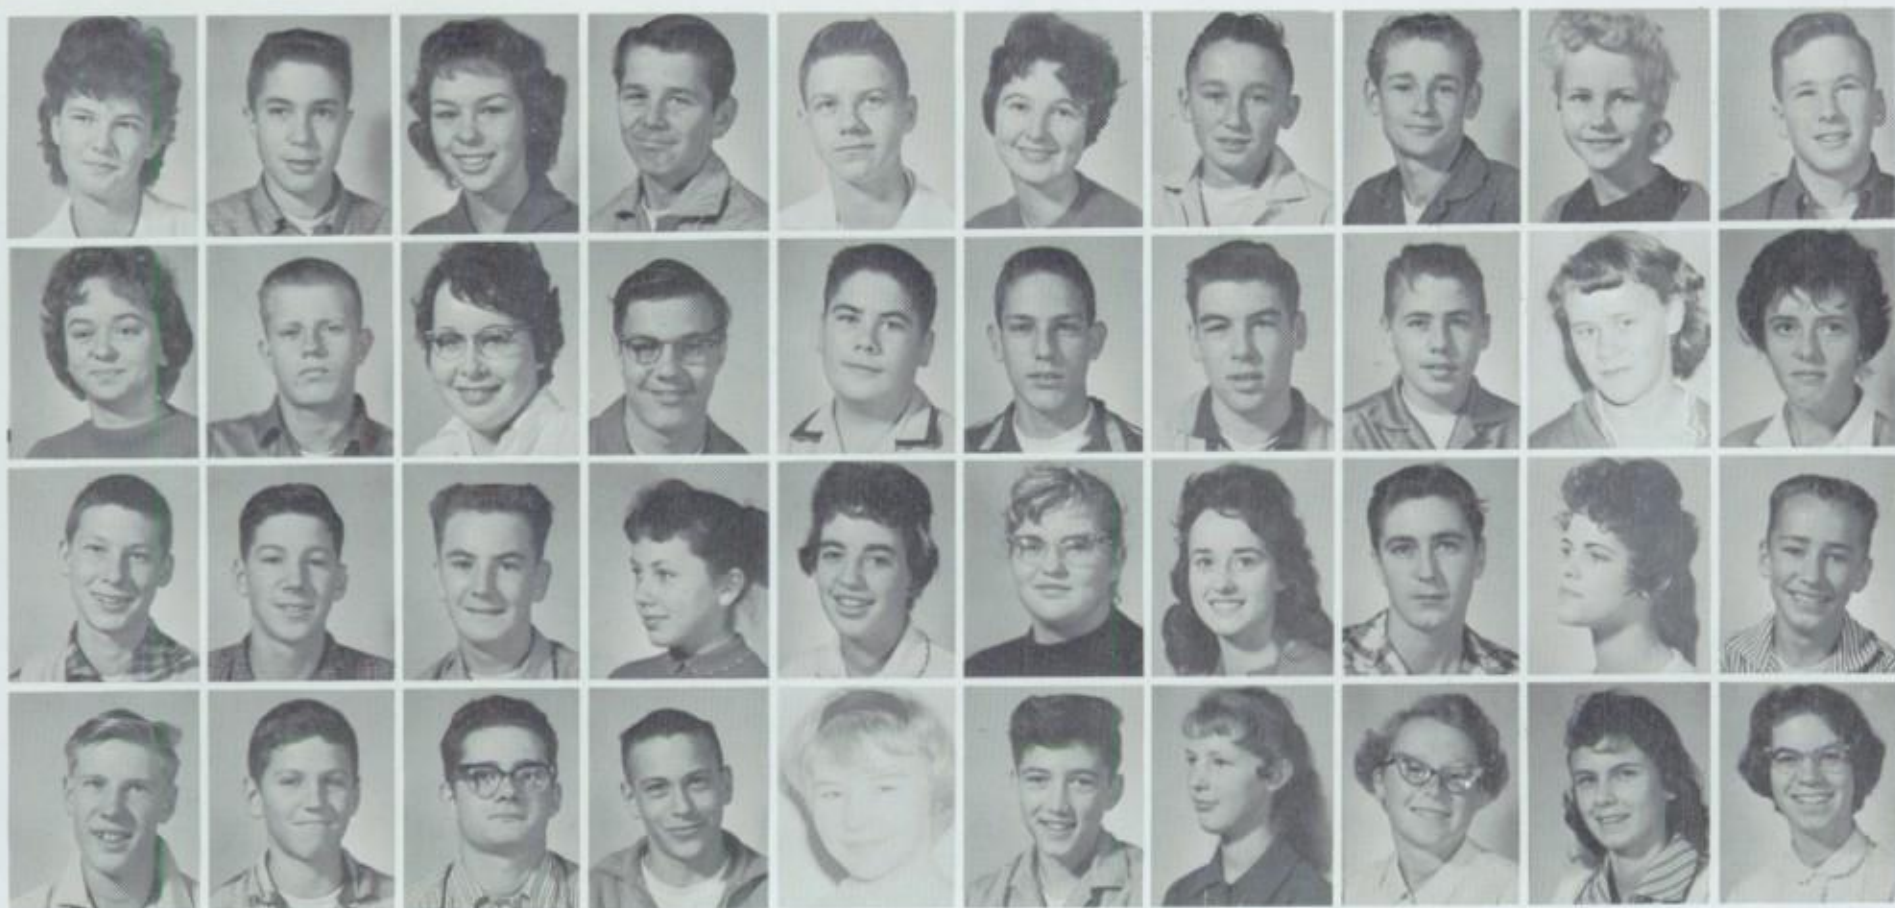

Experimenting with new recipes was a project in the freshman home ec. classes. Pictured mixing up something delicious(?) are Sandy Stulken, Marsha Arnett, and Kathy Carr.

Shown with some of her prizes for being top salesman of the '59-'60 magazine sale is Linda Johnson. The drive netted over $300 for college scholarships.

Eighth Graders Learn High School Ways

With loads of enthusiasm and great expectations the Class of 1964 entered their first year at E.H.S. Led by their class president, John Rogers, this year's 8th graders collected $43.80 for their Halloween UNICEF drive. Instead of treating themselves they treated underprivileged children of foreign lands.

One activity newly organized this year was the junior high glee club in which about twenty 8th graders participated. Although few eighth grade students enjoy the limelight outside class, this group held regular after school practices and participated in public concerts.

About 40 eighth graders were a credit to their class as they more than held their own with upperclassmen as members of the 95 student experimental algebra class held in the auditorium. Other subjects that occupied the eighth grade were science, English, history, shop, home economics, and physical education. Once a week the boys' and girls' P.E. classes met together to learn dancing.

With the leadership of their class officers and the help of their class advisors (Mr. Thompson, Mr. Sill, and Miss Keir), the eighth grade found the way the high school works and laid the foundation for the junior high leadership they will assume when they become freshmen next fall.

Learning Through Nature and Books

With faith in their profession as strong as the majestic mountains, with patience as unwavering as the North winds, and with understanding as enduring as the rainfall, we find implanted in our lives the TEACHER. Every student's journey along the road of life is influenced by a benign Nature —

. . . And we can truly say that Nature is man's teacher. She unfolds her treasures to his search, unseals his eye, illumines his mind, and purifies his heart; an influence breathes from all the sights and sounds of her existence.

Delving into the wonderland of Nature, we see Mr. Douglas Nosler as a teen-ager. Nature must have left a great influence on him when he was young because he is still an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman — and also a science teacher so successful that he was awarded a National Science Foundation Fellowship for a year's graduate study in his chosen field.

Taking time out from their busy schedules for a 10:00 o'clock cup of coffee are Mrs. Thelma Schweikl, Mr. Albert Bogdan, Superintendent Charles J. Smith, Mrs. Esther Larsen, and Mrs. Andrew Miller.

Administrators — the Backbone of Every School System

Mr. Warren
Mr. Bogdan

Mrs. Soderquist
Mrs. Larsen

MR. FLEETWOOD C. WARREN, assistant principal teaches one geometry class and is kept busy all day with frequent conferences with students, and with attendance and discipline problems. Parents and students alike respect him for his firm but fair treatment of discipline problems. He has helped many students find after school and weekend jobs. Teachers and administrators alike profit from the sound judgment in school problems that he has developed during his 18 years at Enumclaw.

Also in this office MRS. VIVIAN SODERQUIST, assisted by the girls who worked with her, keeps the high school records in order. Daily bulletins, attendance records, report cards and the telephone are just a part of the activities which keep her constantly busy.

In Superintendent Smith's office MR. ALBERT BOGDAN, district business manager, keeps the financial affairs of both the district and the Associated Student Body running smoothly. Many students are not conscious of the long hours spent by him.

The secretary to Superintendent Smith and Mr. Bogdan is MRS. ESTHER LARSON, who takes dictation, types letters, writes purchase orders and takes care of other office work that must be done to keep the school system as efficient as it is. Students know her best as the friendly lady who sells them lunch tickets.

These Specialists Served All Students

MR. GERALD CAMPBELL, publications adviser and audio-visual aids and stage director, is always kept busy meeting Cascadian and Hornet deadlines and getting about 1500 movies a year shown to junior-senior high classes.

MRS. GEORGE WORTHINGTON, our efficient school librarian and adviser of the Library Club, has been a great help to the students in finding information and learning the proper use of the library.

MR. JACK SPITHILL, home counsellor and testing supervisor, carries out the standardized test programs of the entire district and also goes to the homes of students to visit parents for discussions of their child's academic progress and personal and educational problems.

MR. JOHN SYMONDS is completing his 13th year of teaching Latin and Spanish here. He has modernized his Spanish classes by the use of a language laboratory and by showing many slides that he took personally on a trip to Mexico last year.

MR. REX W. WALDRON, a member of the faculty for 13 years, is art director for the school district and in addition teaches an advanced sophomore English class and an experimental humanities class. The class is an outgrowth of Mr. Waldron's study as a John Hay Whitney Fellow two years ago.

MR. GERALD SALSGIVER, history teacher and boys' counsellor, has been at Enumclaw for seven years. He has assisted thousands of boys planning their senior high programs and in choosing a vocation or selecting a college.

While the rest of the class is studying, Donna Ingram and Bob Selland discuss a U. S. History problem with Mr. Salsgiver. Jim Rasmussen, left, and Gary Torjusen are hard at work studying the chapter assignment.

A great asset to the Spanish class this year is the newly installed language lab equipment. Here Mr. Symonds is testing the equipment.

Mrs. Dihel

Enumclaw's music department, instrumental and vocal, have consistently been highly rated in competition festivals and also have a top rating in the community as there is always a good turn-out for the Fall, Christmas, and Spring Concerts.

For 4 years MR. LES WALDEN has been band director for the Enumclaw schools. His beginning junior and senior bands have all brought a great deal of favorable recognition to the Enumclaw schools.

In his second year as director of vocal instruction at E.H.S., MR. BOB ESTBY qualified three vocalists for All State Chorus. He conducts a beginning and an advanced chorus, and teaches one English class.

One of the busiest, and most colorful, places around the building is the art room. MRS. DARLENE DIHEL moved up to junior-senior high from the J. J. Smith school this year to teach three classes in shorthand and three classes of junior-senior high art. Also, as Art Club advisor, Mrs. Dihel became director of stage decorations, programs, advertising posters, and art exhibits which made "art" a varied educational experience for students.

It is debatable whether cooking and sewing is an art or vocation, but under the direction of MRS. DIANE CAVIEZEL and MRS. MARJORIE EVANS the Enumclaw home economics department became both. To create colorful sewing projects and appetizing food treats requires the talents of an artist, yet the 200-odd "artists" — girls in grades 8 through 12 — are also laying the foundation for their life's work, whether it be homemaking or a career in home economics.

Mrs. Caviezel has been at E.H.S. four years and in addition to teaching home economics has been senior high Girls' Counselor and F.H.A. advisor during that time. Mrs. Evans (2nd year here) teaches three classes of cooking, two classes of Washington history and is Senior High Girls' Club advisor.

"Busy, busy, busy!" This is the way Mrs. Caviezel could be described as she looked through her files. As Girls' Counselor she helps approximately 160 girls plan their schedule, helps girls prepare for college, and also helps students find part time jobs.

"Jingle all the way," sings Mr. Estby and members of his beginning chorus in a Christmas carol scene during the Christmas Concert. In addition to a beginning and senior chorus, Mr. Estby has every eighth grader for six weeks of music instruction during the year.

Faculty Develops Scientific Interests

The fields of science and mathematics, as ancient as the old astronomers and as up-to-date as the nuclear physicists, are regarded with increasing interest by the modern teen-ager. Realizing the importance of these two fields in the international race for space supremacy, E.H.S. students worked hard to strengthen their perception of science.

In 21 years as an E.H.S. science teacher MISS VIOLET CASS has achieved an enviable record as a teacher, as a professional leader, and as a booster for worthy community projects. This year Miss Cass has five science classes, and is Torch Club advisor.

A science stronghold in MR. RALPH SILL'S room for he has been teaching eighth grade science here for 9 years. This year he teaches four science classes, an 8th grade math class, and last winter he coached varsity basketball.

In his 8th year at E.H.S. MR. FRED RONHAAR teaches one eighth grade shop class, one freshman shop class, and three Freshman practical math classes. He also coaches varsity track and junior high basketball.

MR. JAKE THOMAS, who graduated from Western Washington College last year, divides his time between junior and senior high. He teaches one algebra, two geometry, and two eighth grade math classes. He also coached eighth grade football and basketball.

Heading Enumclaw's rapidly expanding senior high science and math departments are MR. DOUGLAS NOSLER and MR. CHRISTIAN MELGARD. Mr. Nosler returned this year after a year's graduate study at Oregon State College on a National Science Foundation scholarship. He teaches five classes in chemistry — two college prep, two general and one advanced. Mr. Melgard taught last year at Coupeville. Mr. Melgard comes to school daily at 7:30 a.m. to conduct an advanced math class. He also teaches two advanced algebra classes, two in physics and one in first year geometry.

A veritable science center is the classroom of Miss Cass who has been accumulating equipment, pickled specimens, and exhibits here for 21 years. This demonstration for Howard Satterlund and LeAnn Linder is typical of the interesting procedures that frequent her classes.

Only a few years ago, just one teacher taught all the senior high science and advanced math at E.H.S. Now Mr. Nosler, LEFT, and Mr. Melgard teach full time in these departments which have been greatly expanded and modernized.

Miss Keir's 8A class is studying hard for their next Weekly Review test. To help them better understand an article they are reading, Ken Adams points out a location on the map. Checking in their Review are Ellen Fant, Hazel Dobson, and Douglas Stevens while Paul Mihelich (behind Hazel) and Cecil Raymer (head on hand) look at the map.

History Is Philosophy Learned by Examples

Miss Keir
Mr. Radliff

Teachers have to talk for a living, so they are frequently found expounding their views and as well as their knowledge of facts in the classroom. The teachers in Enumclaw's social studies department were expert at dealing with facts and views in a manner which helped students, struggling to get an education and to prepare for a profession, to face their problems squarely and feel secure in the knowledge that they, personally, are a concern of the faculty and the school.

Genial, hardworking MR. WES BORRESON, in his first year at E.H.S., brought many smiles to his U.S. history classes. All students know him as the instructor who "sure knows his history." He was also an assistant varsity football coach, and Junior Class adviser.

MR. GEORGE WORTHINGTON, who came to Enumclaw from Auburn last year, teaches five classes of world problems, a required subject for seniors, he is scholarship counsellor for seniors and also a Senior Class advisor. His ready smile, sincerity, and spontaneous, razor-edged wit have made him a favorite among students.

In her 18th year at E.H.S., MISS ISABEL KEIR hopes for 18 more years of success at teaching here. She teaches one history class, two English classes and a library class — all eighth grade. She is also Junior Red Cross adviser.

MR. WARNER THOMAS, in his 24th year at E.H.S., is respected by students as a teacher who can "get history into your system." Mr. Thomas teaches four eighth grade history classes and two Washington history classes. He is also Firemen's Club adviser.

MR. GARY RADLIFF teaches 8th grade history and math. He came from Friday Harbor, in the San Juan Islands, where he taught last year. He also coached junior high football and was an assistant senior high basketball coach.

English Teaches Fluent Expression

The curriculum of Enumclaw High includes provisions for both liberal and professional training. A liberal education is one that releases the mind from ignorance, prejudice, superstition, one that stimulates the imagination and makes the student a citizen of the world. One of the subjects which accomplished this purpose is English. It teaches a student how to think and communicate with intelligence, skill and competence.

MISS LOUISE WEITMAN, friendly and frank, teaches juniors and seniors the complexities of English. She was graduated from Northwest Nazarene College last year. In her first year of teaching she taught five English classes, coached the senior play, was adviser to F.T.A. and Thespians, and was one of the Senior Class advisers.

During his five years here MR. LOUIS FAGNAN has taught English, social studies, coached debate and dramatics and directed stage. This year he taught five classes of English, coached debate, and was Sophomore Class adviser.

MRS. GRACE NORTH has been here for 15 years and has helped thousands of Freshmen and Sophomores learn the value of English and the importance of accuracy. Also, through the introduction of Julius Caesar and other great classics to Enumclaw students, she has interested many in the literary works of great authors. Mrs. North is also a Freshman Class adviser.

MR. JOHN THOMPSON moved into Junior High this year from Enumclaw's J. J. Smith School. His ability and straight-forward humor has gained the confidence of most of his eighth grade English students.

Quiet, earnest, and sincere, MRS. MARJORIE SYMONDS was one of the guiding hands of the English department this year. After three years as E.H.S. librarian, Mrs. Symonds "retired" to half-day teaching, and taught three English III classes this year.

"What is the meaning of this word?" Miss Weitman puts this question to her English III class, and she warns they will have to know them before next year when they are seniors. Darwin Meisner, Dennis Collins, and Bob Selland seem to be satisfied that next year will be soon enough.

On weekends Mr. Thompson relaxes on his 168 acre farm at the foot of Mt. Rainier. Here his colt, "Stormy," shows his affection with a fond kiss.

Qu'est-ce que c'est? Well, the writing on the board indicates a French class, but this is really just Miss Haynes' ordinary American bookkeeping class. Reflecting Miss Haynes' good humor, which never failed and made her many friends among students, are Mary Jo Mlachnik and Larry Stanhope.

Mr. Hash, LEFT, and Mr. Osborne taught hundreds of boys, eighth graders through seniors, vocational skills in wood shop, crafts, maintenance and printing classes. Mr. Hash's two printing classes do much of the school printing.

Opportunities Become Real with Faculty Guidance

In the commercial, industrial arts, and agriculture departments of junior-senior high, hundreds of students receive training and acquire skills which not only will fit them for employment after graduation but will also make them better adjusted to modern living. Nearly 250 students yearly learn typing and gain an understanding of business methods. About 280 boys take shop, agriculture and printing courses that lay the basis for a vocation or a hobby.

In the years they have been at E.H.S., MR. FRANK OSBORNE (9 years) and MR. CLIFFORD HASH (5 years) have added a lathe, a DeWalt saw, a skill saw, and have developed modern techniques of teaching. Mr. Frank Osborne teaches industrial arts and crafts, is senior class advisor and coaches junior high football and senior high baseball. Mr. Hash's printing classes turn out report cards, attendance slips, programs and countless other print jobs for the school. He also teaches two shop classes, an eighth grade math class, and was assistant football coach.

MR. MARTIN TEETER, agriculture teacher and F.F.A. advisor, has taught here for eleven years. Through his efforts many boys have been launched in successful farming careers and have won many state honors.

MISS RUTH HAYNES, bookkeeping and typing I and II instructor, helps students prepare for office jobs after graduation. From her classes many students have stepped into good secretarial jobs. Miss Haynes came to E.H.S. from W.W.C.E. last year.

MISS ISABEL STEAD, typing, French, and business English teacher, has for 15 years kept her students working industriously toward an understanding of the subject taught, with the goal of bettering themselves. She frequently travels and studies in Europe during the summer.

Faculty Taught Us Values of Education

To keep students at a high level of physical fitness and good health and to establish good health practices for life are the objectives of the school's physical education department. Enumclaw's four P.E. teachers and the school nurse combined a wide range of physical activities, selected motion pictures, and book learning into a well-balanced physical education department.

MR. ROBERT CAMPBELL is kept busy all year with his schedule as junior high P.E. instructor and Boys' Counselor. In addition he is Junior High Boys' Club advisor and coached junior-senior high tennis. He has been at E.H.S. for thirteen years.

MR. RONALD TERRY came to Enumclaw two years ago from an assistant football coaching position at the University of Washington. Mr. Terry has two classes of P.E. and four of biology. He is advisor of Lettermen's Club and coaches varsity football and junior high baseball.

Both MISS SYLVIA NETH and MISS JEAN GALL, girls' physical education instructors, made wide use of visual aids to present an interesting and thorough coverage of all their subjects. Miss Gall (8 years at E.H.S.) has two periods of P.E., teaches Washington history and freshman English, is Junior High Girls' Counselor, and advisor to Junior High Girls' Club. Miss Neth (4 years at E.H.S.) teaches four periods of P.E., one Washington history class, and is advisor of Girls' Letter Club and Pep Club.

In her first year here MRS. EVA MacDONALD, our school nurse, efficiently administered to the ills of students, and in addition organized her student assistants and other interested girls into an active Nurses' Club. She was assigned here by King County and divided her time among Enumclaw's three schools, spending two hours daily in this building.

Basketball was just one of the athletic skills Mr. Bob Campbell taught his 8th and 9th grade PE classes. They also learned football, soccer, baseball, volleyball, badminton, table tennis, tumbling and social dancing. Shown with Mr. Campbell here are D. Manson, T. Stergion, A. Greschok, T. Dachs.

Grade school and high school teachers and their wives had a regular Thursday night bowling league. Pictured are Mrs. Dihel, Mrs. Lafromboise, Mr. Love, Mr. Borreson, Mr. Dihel, and Miss Neth.

"Come and Get It"

"Spaghetti, please! I want potatoes!" These are only a few of the orders given our cafeteria workers. They have done everything from efficiently serving lunches and keeping our food hot to cleaning the litter left by 600 students each day. They did a pretty neat job, too, don't you think?

Parent-Teacher Unity Is P. T. A. Goal

The Senior High Parent Teacher Association in carrying out the PTA goal of promoting better understanding between parents and teachers, sponsored a "back-to-school" open house at which parents learned about their children's academic life and became acquainted with their teachers. The open house was held during American Education Week (Nov. 8-14) and attended by more than 500 parents.

Discussing fund raising projects for the entire year are these four officers of the Junior-Senior High PTA: Mrs. Bert Spangler, president; Mrs. Martin Leinonen, secretary; Mrs. Burr Howe, vice president; and Mrs. William Bush, treasurer.

Pictured below in the Humanities class are some of the 500 parents who came "back-to-school" during open house Nov. 12.

It is a credit to Enumclaw's bus drivers that there has never been an accident involving an Enumclaw school bus in the last 18 years. The men who have maintained this remarkable record are: Homer Morgan, Jack Billingsly, Chester Johnson, Clarence Malidore, Houston Allen, Olaf Ronning, Grant Goodale, Paul Shumway and Ed Storm.

"At Your Service"

There's nothing we can do or say that would show our appreciation of the custodians. They have assisted the school throughout the year without any complaints. These people are: FRONT ROW: Mr. Christensen and Mrs. Manowski, BACK ROW: Mr. Johnson and Mr. Weber.

Transportation supervisor Mr. Clarence Malidore, (right), and his assistant, Mr. Paul Shumway, are seen here talking to state officials (center) who each year make a thorough safety check of all Enumclaw school buses.

Enumclaw's bus-drivers and custodians are "at your service" reliably and continuously throughout the school year. Besides working the nine months of school, our custodians worked diligently during the summer months to improve our school building. They, I am sure, put in nearly 2,000 hours a year and are still happy to assist us whenever asked.

The transportation supervisors worked all summer to recondition our nine school buses. Enumclaw's nine bus fleet travels nearly 600 miles a day and over 90,000 miles a year. We give you, our custodians and bus drivers, our most sincere thanks for making our school year a pleasant and safe one.

Sports

Nature and Sports Go Hand in Hand

Nature provides a setting and a season for our sports as well as playing a part in our daily lives. Each season of the year has its own special sport. People automatically connect fall with its crisp nights to football. The falling snow marks the start of basketball while at the first sign of the blossoming trees, golfers make their way on to the greens and fairways of the golf courses. In the warm sun, baseball and track make their debut. Yes, nature and sports certainly go together.

"Won't girls ever learn how to golf?" thinks Jeff Farman as he tries to show Linda Hall how to hold her club. Observing his instructions are Malcolm Graham, Julie Holm and Dan Swanson. The students at Enumclaw often occupy the beautiful greens and fairways on our scenic golf course.

1959 Hornets Tie for Third in

Here Malcolm Graham demonstrated the hard clean, tackling that was typical of the Hornets' defensive play throughout the year. During the year Enumclaw allowed an average of only one touchdown per game and was third in the PSL on total defense.

The inspirational award was given to Malcolm Graham for his spirited play throughout the season.

Don Eggen, No. 50, just missed this Auburn back, but Jim Simundson, No. 46, came up fast to hold him to a short gain.

Puget Sound League

After losing their opening game to Franklin Pierce, the Hornets played inspired ball against Clover Park, the league champs, but still lost 18-7.

Although the Hornets were not defeated again during the season they were tied twice, the first time against Highline in a 14-14 thriller which saw EHS come from behind twice.

The 13-13 tie against Kent was 1959's most exciting game. A 50-yard pass scored for Kent on their first play but Enumclaw retaliated with a 15-yard Kovacevich to Graham TD pass. Kent again went ahead on a 49-yard run and Kuhuski equalized their TD with a 67-yard scamper.

The Homecoming game, Oct. 30, with Puyallup was a thrilling night for the EHS students and the Enumclaw football players as the Hornets overwhelmed the Vikings 28-0.

In the final three games of the season, Enumclaw trounced three of the PSL's lower division team. Even linemen scored in these games as Mike McNeeley and Don Porter each fell on blocked punts in the end zone for scores.

During the season Graham, Simundson, and Kuhuski rushed for over 400 yards and Kuhuski averaged 7.6 per carry. Kovacevich completed 33 of 68 passes and Creek caught 16 passes for a total of 178 yards. Kuhuski and Graham each scored 6 touchdowns, and Graham added 13 PAT's for a season total of 49 points.

Coach Terry is giving instructions to the fine managers — Jim Christensen, Rick Johnson, and Lynn Dickson.

Thrills Spiced Year

Due to the eleven member-schools this year, the Puget Sound League was divided into two divisions — Northern and Southern. All schools played each team in their own division twice and teams of the other half of their league twice. Renton and Clover Park won in their respective divisions and Renton won the playoff to become the 1960 Puget Sound League champions.

Although the Hornets only tied for fourth place in the Southern Division with 6 wins and 9 losses, the team still had an exciting year and just 6 points well placed could have given them a 10—5 record and a second place finish. Enumclaw had two overtime tilts, lost three games by one point and won once by the same margin.

Enumclaw split all the way with Puyallup, losing by 3 points, winning by 2 points, and winding up tied with the Vikings for fourth place in the Southern Division. In screaming finishes against Clover Park, Enumclaw lost twice — by one point at Clover Park (on a foul shot after the final buzzer) and in overtime on the home floor. In two other home court thrillers, the Hornet defeated Sumner by 1 point in overtime and lost to Auburn by one point.

The Hornet were rough on the three schools in the Highline district, defeating Highline by 10, Evergreen by 14, and Mt. Rainier by 17. On the other hand the Hornets had to bow their heads in shame as they took 39 point shellacking by Renton, and lost to Franklin Pierce by 19 and to Kent by 17.

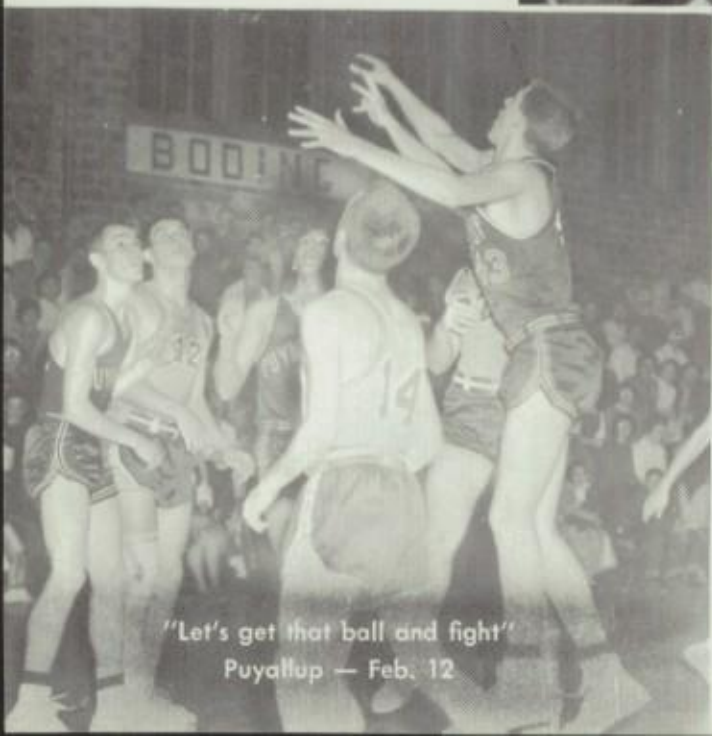

The Hornet "B" squad had a bad year winning only 4 and losing 14. Considering this and the fact that only two players (Kovacevich, junior, and Houghton, sophomore) saw regular action, EHS will have a big building job for next year.

The Sophomore basketball squad didn't have a very good season this year. They won 3 games and lost 10. The 3 they won were all from Sumner, while the rest of the games lost were a matter of only a few points. ROW 1: J. Wetton, R. Darby, W. Hartill, L. Garnier, F. Mihelich, D. Stulken, E. Wednt, S. Johnson, Coach Gary Radliff.

The B Squad wasn't as successful as hoped for but they worked long and hard, nevertheless. Mr. Salsgiver, the coach, worked hard with the boys and was proud of them. Pictured are: ROW 1:

Hornet Thinclads Raced to Victory

With only two victories in dual meets in the 1959 the 1960 Hornet thinclads opened their season April 1 at Highline determined to redeem Enumclaw's track and field reputation. Experienced men in almost every event gave strength to the team scoring throughout the five dual meets and six invitational and district meets.

Turning in good performances for the Hornets throughout the season were the following: sprints and broad jump, Malcolm Graham and Bud Kirk; 880 — Carry Richardson, Don McDaniels, Lou Draghi and Jack Dickson; 440, Terry Brown, and Bill Johnson; weights — Jerry Creek, Bill Holmes and Don Porter; pole vault, Lou Draghi; and hurdles, Bill Johnson.

Two of last year's track lettermen, Don Porter and Malcolm Graham, talk to Coach Ronhaar about the coming track season.

Dependable Pitching Fortified E. H. S. Nine

With only three senior and two junior lettermen, Coach Frank Osborne's defending Puget Sound League champions faced an uphill battle in the 1960 baseball wars. Two of the lettermen, Aden and Kovacevich, were twirlers, however, and a trio of strong soph pitchers gave the Hornets a strong mound staff for the tough 15 game league schedule. Defense strength came from lettermen John Wells, first base, and Jim Kuhuski and Doug Morris, outfielders. Others to see regular action were Tom Maks and Larry Pete from last year's B squad, and Gary Strom, Gordon Avery, Mel Mitchell, Gordon Pogorelc, and Ed Wendt, all sophomores.

As the Hornets began the 1960 baseball season Coach Frank Osborne counted heavily on the help of his three senior lettermen; Jim Kuhuski, outfielder; John Wells, first sacker; and Don Aden, pitcher.

Four baseball players who gave the Hornets an unusually strong pitching staff this year were Dick Kovacevich, a junior letterman, and Dale Ehler, Dick Wetton and Gary Houghton, all sophomores.

Coach Bob Campbell poses with Gretchen Allen and Don Eggen, two excellent sophomore tennis players, who added fire to this year's team.

Hornet Tennis Team

Perennial Champs

As the 1960 season began Enumclaw's perennial Puget Sound League tennis champs didn't have a place to play — street widening had taken part of the three old courts and prevented fall and winter practicing and new courts were not completed until this year's competition was underway.

Despite this handicap Coach Bob Campbell's racqueteers (more than 100 of them including junior high) swarmed over the four new courts in April and fought hard to maintain Enumclaw's tennis supremacy.

Strength for this year's varsity tennis squad come from six juniors who won their first letter last year and should give EHS real power next year. They are J. Hase, R. Hanson, K. Weston, J. Tice, J. Myhre, D. Campbell.

Hornet Golfers Made Divots Fly

Three boys (Jeff Farman, Bob Selland, and Roger Lennon) and two girls (Linda Hall and Julie Holm) make up the 1960 Hornet golf team. This year, as for the past three years, EHS girls will play against the boys from other schools, because Enumclaw has never had enough boys divot diggers to make up a team.

This year's squad had thirteen matches during the season. They had two matches each against Sumner, Puyallup, Mt. Rainier, and single matches against Highline, Evergreen, Renton, Kent-Meridian, Auburn, Franklin-Pierce and Clover-Park. Only three of the matches were played on the Enumclaw golf course.

Julie Holm and Linda Hall, the only girls on the senior high golf team, spend a great deal of time practicing on the putting green.

The Junior High golf team played only two games during the season. Members of the team were: Mel Wik, Gene Okeson, Paul Mihelich, Craig Ives.

Coach Jerry Salsgiver and Jeff Farman, a senior letterman, examine a driver which Jeff hopes will help win for EHS during the 1960 golf season.

One of the best games played by the Enumclaw 8th grade football squad was the final game of the season against Olympic Jr. High, which Enumclaw won 18-6. On the 8th grade squad were: ROW 1: S. Craig, T. Anderson, R. Whithouse, J. Raybon, G. Wagner, D.

Manson, M. Stobie, R. Abramson, P. Mihelich, J. Howells. ROW 2: Manager K. Skore, S. Hotton, T. Stergion, M. Maras, B. Varney, A. Limbo, G. Bremer, B. Wilson, J. Farman, B. Jensen, D. Misner, C. Winters, M. Shephard, D. Freuhling.

Jr. High Had Spirit

The 1959 junior high Chieftains had good team spirit and desire but the strong competition in the Puget Sound League held them to a 2 win 3 loss record for the season. Fred Weston, Dan Blankenship and Joe Leinonen were this year's captains. Fred Weston was voted the most inspirational player of the season by his teammates. Two 8th graders, Warren Lokovsek and Mike Hayes, made letters.

In a downpour at Franklin Pierce, Enumclaw was edged 12-6 in the final minutes on a 60 yard pass play. Jerry Robinson scored the touchdown for Enumclaw.

Enumclaw blanked Mann 19-0 in a fine defensive game played on the home field. Mason Sorenson and Fred Weston played a good game on the defense and Dan Blankenship was outstanding on offense.

Enumclaw defeated Puyallup, the PSL Champs, for their only loss of the season. The whole team played well and deserved this 12-7 victory.

Hudtloff scored three times the first half to defeat Enumclaw 18-0. Although the Chieftains couldn't get going the first half, they played the strong Hudtloff squad to a scoreless standstill in the second half. Enumclaw was edged in the final game of the season by Sumner 13-12.

Enumclaw's 8th grade team had only one win in five games. They won from Olympic 18-6 but lost to Puyallup 7-2, Olympic 7-6, Tahoma 25-19, Puyallup 51-7.

Reviewing the '59 junior high football season are Mr. Gary Radliff, LEFT, the 8th grade football coach, and Mr. Frank Osborne, Junior high coach.

Chieftain Cagers Fought Hard

Probably the Chieftains' greatest game of the season was not played on the home court but was at Sumner. It was an exceptionally good defensive game which Enumclaw won 31-24. The boys playing in the guard positions led the attack throughout the whole game letting very few of Sumner's ballhandlers get through to score.

Other games could have been decided in Enumclaw's favor with probably a little more experience individually per player. Franklin Pierce won by one due to a last second foul; Hudtloff won in overtime with seven straight foul shots in the overtime period to Enumclaw two field goals; Franklin Pierce won an overtime game with a last second field goal and a foul shot.

So went the season with Puyallup and Mann giving the Chieftains their greatest opposition.

The greatest opponent throughout the season was the unseen enemy, the "flu bug." Two or three boys were out intermittently throughout the season. This undoubtedly attributed to the lack of drive the team showed toward the season's end.

Although the eighth grade basketball team only won one game during the season (Enumclaw 36, Franklin Pierce 33) the squad had good team spirit all season.

Acknowledgments

As another year draws to a close many Seniors are spending more and more times reminiscing about the good times spent during five years in junior-senior high school. To preserve these memories scores of people have spent countless hours putting them in pictures and words in your 1960 Cascadian.

As Cascadian editor I owe "thanks" to all the people — students, teachers, and business men — who contributed to our yearbook; however, my first "thank you" is to my staff members who spent many hours producing copy and pictures in order to meet strict deadlines; to staff photographer Don Lloyd and his assistants who kept busy clicking the shutters and printing the many pictures which make up this book; and to Roberta Darby, staff artist, who created our friendly little elf.

I'm deeply indebted to our advisor, Mr. Gerald Campbell, for the many patient hours he spent giving us helpful advice and for checking copy on Saturday and at night so we could make our deadlines.

Special thanks also to Jim Palm, representative of the American Yearbook Company, who took such personal interest in helping us plan this book and also helped us carry out our ideas.

Capable and generous assistance was rendered by several professional photographers. Mr. Bert Perler of Tacoma and Mr. Fred Banister of Enumclaw were always cooperative beyond contract demands. Mr. Bill Umek furnished us with several nature scenes needed to carry out our theme.

I would also like to thank the administration and the faculty for the fine cooperation they have given to our staff. Many times students were called out of class for stories or pictures and I sincerely thank them for their support and assistance.

To the Hornet staff we are grateful for publicity during our sale campaign and for publishing Cascadian news throughout the year.

I extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to the professional and business men of the community and surrounding area, for without their generosity in sponsorship and advertising this annual could not have been published.

These are the people who made this book possible . . . your book.

Linda Jensen
1960 Cascadian Editor
